UK Outlook for Tuesday 26 Oct 2021 to Thursday 4 Nov 2021:
Showers in the west on Tuesday before more prolonged, organised rain arrives, with moderate to fresh winds. Through the first few days of this period, Atlantic systems will be moving in from the west , bringing heavy rain and strong, locally gale force winds.Temperatures mostly average, but trending upwards at times. The rest of October will be dominated by weather arriving from the Atlantic. Often unsettled and windy, with outbreaks of rain for many. Wettest in the north and west, with brief dry interludes. Driest conditions likely across south and southeastern areas. Winds lighter here, with risk of overnight fog at times. Increasing chance of more settled weather in early November. Temperatures likely warmer than average for most, but chance of colder spells developing.
